

Sprague Register Report

Surname variations include: Sprage, Sprague, Spraigne and Spreague.

First Generation

1. Edward¹ SPRAGUE was born circa 1576 in Upway, Dorsetshire, England^[1] and died in the parish of Fordington St. George, Upway, Dorsetshire, England circa 6 June 1614; he was 38^[1].

D.L. Kent, in his genealogy of the Sprague Family has the best description of Edward's occupation and station in English society: "Edward was a prosperous master craftsman, fulling mill operator and farmer whose will does not mention freehold land...^[1,2] ...The 'living' which was to fall to eldest son Ralph when he became of legal age no doubt was secured by a lease. If originally written for the life of Sprague, senior, the lives of two of his sons could have been included under a then-common system of land tenure. Sons Ralph and Edward held such a lease in 1634 and 1636." Thus, the Spragues were out-and-out middle-class tradesmen -- neither gentry nor landed family. Therefore, there are no hereditary arms of record for Edward Sprague and his descendants^[3,4]. It must be noted for modern readers that a "fuller" was a finisher of cloth.

Edward's will was written on 6 June 1614 and probated on 13 October 1614, with the records residing in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury^[5]. The will was devised primarily to his wife and six children. However, he left 10s. to the poor of Upway and another 10s. to the church in Upway^[1,6]. His will specifically names his family as follows: "Ralphe Sprague my eldest son"^[5,7,8]; "my eldest daughter Alice Sprague"; "Edward Sprague my second sonne"; "Richard Sprague my third sonne"; "Xpofe [Christopher] Sprague my fourth sonne"; "William Sprague my youngest sonne" and "Christian Sprague my wife"^[5]. Of his children, only Ralph, Richard and William migrated to New England^[1,6].

Edward married Christian [surname not known].

They had the following children:

Second Generation

Family of Edward SPRAGUE (1) & Christian [surname not known]

2. Alice SPRAGUE (Edward¹) was born circa 1592-4 in Fordington St. George, Upway, Dorsetshire, England^[9] and died in 1668; she was 76. She was buried on 3 May 1668 in Tincleton, Dorsetshire, England^[10].

On 15 June 1615 when Alice was 23, she first married Richard EAMES, in Fordington St. George, Upway, Dorsetshire, England^[11,12]. Richard died before 3 May 1634 in Fordington St. George, Upway, Dorsetshire, England^[10]. On that date, Alice was granted administration of Richard's estate.

On 20 December 1638 when Alice was 46, she second married John HOLLAND, in Tincleton, Dorsetshire, England^[10]. He was buried on 17 May 1669 in Tincleton, Dorsetshire, England^[10].

Sprague Register Report

3. Lieutenant Ralph² SPRAGUE (Edward¹) was born circa 1594-6 in Fordington St. George, Upway, Dorsetshire, England^[1,13,14,15] and died in Malden, Middlesex co., MA sometime in 9m(November):1650; he was 56^[1,7,13,16,17].

Like his father, Ralph was trained to be -- and started his occupational life as -- a fuller^[18]. Like other boys of the 17th century English middle-class (i.e. those who were to be tradesmen or craftsmen), Ralph would have had formal education until he was 14, then started his apprenticeship as a fuller - completing his seven-year apprenticeship and becoming a journeyman in his chosen profession at age 21^[19].

Ralph, however, was not of legal age when his father died in 1614. This is borne out by a "codicil-like Memorandum" to Edward's will: "that whereas the liveinge of the abovesaid Edward Sprague doth faul unto his sonne Ralphe Sprague after his decease the said Ralphe Sprague doth upon his fathers request promise that his mother Christian shall quietly enjoy the said liveinge unti he shall be one and twentye yeares of age."^[20]

Furthermore, two Dorsetshire court records from December 1617 show that Ralph was now "of age". On 5 December 1617, Ralph was bound over for trial to "...appeare att the nexte gerall [general] sessions at the peace to be holden in and for the Burrough and Towne of Waymouth and Melcombe Regis in the County of Dorset then and there to answere unto the suspition of felony wherewith he his charged..."^[20,21]

This trial was held on 13 December 1617. Essentially Ralph and several friends had spend several days at the home of Bryan Gates (a vintner of Weymouth who had been hauled before the court several times before for "suffering on the Sabath day to drink sundry psons dwellers..." and for allowing people to "play tables" in his house) on a rousing bender and were now called to court to answer for it.

What is important is that Ralph testifies that he was a fuller in these proceedings. This means that, in compliance with the strict provisions of the 1563 Elizabethan Statute of Artificers, he had completed the seven-year apprenticeship at his trade and was now above the age of 21. Thus, Kent does the math and determined that his birth date could have been no later than 1596. Add to that the fact that Ralph was not of age in 1614, means that he was born no earlier than 1594^[9].

The migration of the Sprague brothers is still a matter of some debate. If they sailed in 1628, the three brothers and their families probably sailed aboard the Abigail, Henry Gauden master, departing Weymouth, England on 20 June 1628 (according to Thomas Prince's Chronological History) and arriving at Naumkeag (Salem), Essex co., MA on 6 September 1628^[5].

If they sailed in 1629, Ralph his wife Joan and sons John & Richard most likely sailed from Graveshead in London, Middlesex, England aboard the Lyon's Whelp, John Gibbs, master. In this timeline, they supposedly landed in Naumkeag (Salem), Essex co., MA and went from there to Charlestown, Suffolk co., MA by mid-July 1629^[26].

According to the Mary & John Clearinghouse, "...They were sent by Rev. John White of Dorchester, Dorset to seek out a plantation site for the "Mary & John" group from the West Country that White was planning to send out the following spring. They became the founders of Charlestown, MA..."^[27] and Ralph is on the Mary & John Clearinghouse master index as #607 "Sprague, Ralph (1599-1650) of Charlestown MA From Upway Dorset"^[25]

Ralph applied for the Oath of Freeman on 19 October 1630 at Salem, Essex co., MA and took the Oath on 18 May 1631, also at Salem, Essex co., MA^[18,22,23,24]. He and Joan were first admitted to the Boston, Suffolk co., MA church in early 1631 as members #102 & #103^[62]. They were dismissed from the Boston Church on 14 October 1632 with the understanding that they would help form a church at Charlestown, Suffolk co., MA^[63]. They did and were admitted to the church at Charlestown as founding members on 2 November 1632^[1,64].

Ralph served in the local militia and was elected Sergeant on 14 May 1634^[28]; Ensign on 4 November 1646^[29] and Lieutenant on 15 November 1637^[30]. He was clearly popular with the men in his company. Sprague was admitted to the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston, Suffolk co., MA in 1638^[32]. Finally, he resigned from his office as Lieutenant and was formally discharged on 4 November 1646^[31].

Sprague Register Report

Ralph Sprague was one of the earliest inhabitants of Charlestown, Suffolk co., MA -- admitted as an inhabitant there in 1629^[33,34]. During that same year, he and other founding residents began building on the north (northwest, according to Wyman; northeast, according to Anderson) side of Town Hill. The new settlement of houses & newly-surveyed lots took a semi-circular form on the south & southeast sides of the field designated for their use^[33,35]. His property is included in the lists of Charlestown inhabitants dated 9 January 1633/4 and January 1635/6^[35].

Sprague's holdings in 1635 included seven cow commons, which was soon increased to eight^[36], and five acres of the Mystic River side of the settlement^[37]. In 1637, he was granted lot #40, consisting of 10 acres on the Mystic River side of town. However, Wyman includes this curious note "5 to be given up"^[35]. By this year, he had divested himself of several cow commons, since he was listed as only having 5.75 cow commons at this time^[38].

On 23 April 1638, he received several large land grants on the Mystic River side of the town of 35, 90 and 5 acres, respectively and now had 6 cow commons in the "stinted common" as of 30 December 1638^[40]. The full tally of his 1638 real estate holdings included twelve lots of land in Charlestown: 2 acres of arable land in the East Field; his house and 1 acre of land at the east end of the Town Common; 4 acres in the South Mead; 2 acres of arable land in the High Field; the aforementioned 6 cow commons (one common for each "milch cow"); 4 acres of arable land in Line Field (near the Cambridge line); 14 acres in the Mystic Marshes; 5 acres of woods in the Mystic Field; 35 acres of woods in the Mystic Field (near the North River); 14 acres of meadow in the Prospect Meadows near the Freshet & town Common and 90 acres in Pond Field^[35,41].

On 6 June 1639 "Leift Ral: Sprague" received a land grant of 100 acres, "having born difficulties in the beginning"^[42,43]. Finally, just before his death, he deeded the following Charlestown, Suffolk co., MA property to his brother, Richard Sprague: his house near the Mystic River; 3 acres in the Great Field; another lot of 3 acres of arable land, location not noted; 2 cow commons; 7 hay-lots near the Mystic River; 2.5 hay-lots, location not noted; 6 more cow commons and the Meadow between the garden & the Mystic River. The original date of record for this deed was 14d:12m(February):1668, but that is now known to be incorrect. The correct date of the deed is now acknowledged to be 23d:1m(March):1649/50; recorded on 17 April 1669^[1].

The Spragues most likely moved to Malden, Middlesex co., MA in the late 1640s, probably after Ralph resigned his commission in the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company in 1646.

Ralph was one of the first settlers and an early leader of Charlestown, Suffolk co., MA. Robert Anderson provides a detailed account of Ralph Sprague's Town Service and Offices: "Deputy for Charlestown to Massachusetts Bay General Court, 3 September 1634, 3 March 1635/6, 8 September 1636, 7 December 1636, 2 November 1637, 12 March 1637/8, 2 May 1638, 6 September 1638, 13 March 1638/9, 22 May 1639, 4 September 1639, 13 May 1640, 7 October 1631, 7 March 1643/4, 29 May 1644, 14 May 1645, 12 August 1645, 2 October 1645^[18,44,45]... [Also,] ...Coroner's jury, 28 September 1630 on the body of Austen Brathcher^[46]. [Ironically, he also stood bond for the accused Walter Palmer, who eventually was cleared of Manslaughter charges^[34,47]] ... 'Umpire' in the matter of the bounds between Dorchester and Roxbury, 7 November 1632^[48]. Committee with the power to 'set out bounds of all towns not yet set out or in difference betwixt any town'^[49]. Committee to rate each town in the plantation, 25 May 1636^[50]. Chosen to 'assist at the particular courts at Newetowne [now Cambridge],' 17 May 1637^[51,52]. Appointed to view the bridge at Mistick, 6 May 1646^[53]. Committee to lay out the way to Reading, 26 May 1647^[54] ... [Finally,] ...Constable of 'Charlton,' 19 October 1630^[55]. Selectman, 12 February 1637/8^[56]. Committee to lay out lots, 9 January 1633/4^[57]. Overseer of highways, 13 January 1634/5^[58]. Selectman, 10 February 1634/5, 13 February 1635/6^[59]. Committee to stint the common, 17 February 1636/7^[60]. Committee to 'consider of some things tending towards a body of laws,' 26 April 1638^[61]."^[18]

At the time of his death, Ralph Sprague's Malden lands were inventoried at £669^[1].

On 15 August 1623 when Ralph was 29, he married Joanna/Joan/Johane WARREN, daughter of Richard WARREN & Eve [surname not known], in Fordington, St. George, Dorsetshire, England^[1,13,65,66,67,68,69,70,71,72,73,74,75,76,77,78]. She died on 24 Feb 1679/1680 in Charlestown, MA^[13,78].

Sprague Register Report

Wyman says that Ralph Sprague's wife is Joan CORBIN, daughter of John CORBIN, citing a 1651 letter in NEHGR; 4:289^[1,79]. However, the Parish Register of Fordington, St. George, Dorsetshire, England states clearly that he married "Johane WARREN"^[12].

Dowty clears all this up quite nicely by identifying John Corbin as Ralph's stepfather. John's letter to Ralph - first published in NEHGR 4(1850):289 - was written on 25 March 1651, unfortunately after Ralph's death in November 1650. John's reference to himself as "father-in-law" was at first incorrectly taken in the context of the term's meaning in America. That is, that John Corbin would have been the father of Ralph's wife. In the context of 17th century England, the term meant "stepfather". Thus, John Corbin was Christian Sprague's second husband and Ralph's wife (as shown in the Parish registers) was Johane Warren^[10].

Johane's will was written on 24 February 1674/5 and proved on 15 June 1680^[7,80].

They had the following children:

8	i.	John
9	ii.	Jonathon
10	iii.	Richard
11	iv.	Samuel
12	v.	Mary
13	vi.	Phineas

Generation: G9 Grandparents

Person Numbers: 3720/3721

4. Edward SPRAGUE. (*Edward*¹) We currently know nothing of Edward, save his children:

14	i.	Elizabeth
15	ii.	Edward
16	iii.	William

5. Richard SPRAGUE (*Edward*¹) was born in 1604 in Fordington St. George, Upway, Dorsetshire, England^[81]. This is estimated from the claim that Richard was 25 when he migrated circa 1629. He supposedly sailed from Graveshead in London, Middlesex, England on 25 April 1629 aboard the Lyon's Whelp, landing in Naumkeag (Salem), Essex co., MA in mid-July 1629^[82]. The actual facts of their migration are still a matter of debate, see the discussion in Ralph Sprague's entry.

6. Christopher SPRAGUE (*Edward*¹) was born sometime between 1605 and 1610, based upon his place in the family. He died in 1625 in Fordington St. George, Upway, Dorsetshire, England and was buried there on 31 March 1625^[83,84].

7. William SPRAGUE (*Edward*¹) was born in 1611 in Fordington St. George, Upway, Dorsetshire, England^[82]. As with his brother Richard, William's birthdate is estimated from his age at migration. William was 19 when he supposedly sailed from Graveshead in London, Middlesex, England on 25 April 1629 aboard the Lyon's Whelp, landing in Naumkeag (Salem), Essex co., MA in mid-July 1629^[82]. The actual facts of their migration are still a matter of debate, see the discussion in Ralph Sprague's entry.

Third Generation

Family of Lieutenant Ralph SPRAGUE (3) & Joanna/Joan/Johane WARREN

8. Captain John³ SPRAGUE (*Ralph*², *Edward*¹) was born in 1624 in Fordington St. George, Upway, Dorsetshire, England and died in Malden, Middlesex co., MA on 25 June 1692; he was 68^[1,16]. John was baptized in Fordington, St. George, Dorsetshire, England on 23 May 1624^[11,78,85,86].

Sprague Register Report

John migrated to New England with his parents in 1628 or 1629 at the age of 4 or 5^[1]. Please see his father's entry for full discussion of this family's migration. As seen by his title, he served well enough in the local militia to make the senior officer position of Captain.

By in large, he lived in Malden, Middlesex co., MA. But he also acquired extensive real estate holdings in Charlestown, Suffolk co., MA. Specifically, in 1652, "Lieut. John" bought 67 acres at Long Pond from "Lieut. Richard" (presumably his brother Richard). This deed was recorded in 1667. He bought 9 acres of land from P. Attwood in 1673 and 2 lots of "march" land from J. Guppie in 1674/5. In 1684, he bought both P. Upham's and T. Barlow's parts of the 3 acre Dexter lot. He bought 2 acres from P. Fowle in 1685. On 20 February 1687, he made some major purchases, buying his brother Richard's house and a farm occupied by W. Richardson which included a house and 4 acres of land. He also acquired 4 acres near the top of Bunker Hill; .75 of an acre of marsh land on the east side of town near Penny Ferry; 5 acres of land next to this marsh land; 38.5 acres of land which was considered equal to 11 cow commons and a woodlot in the first division. In addition, he branched out his business interests by purchasing half of a wharf and warehouse on the South River and another warehouse at the North Wapping dock. Interestingly enough, he "reconveyed" all the 1687 acquisitions above to his brother Richard on the same date that he bought them^[1]. Hmm...

Further, in 1687, he bought 1/8 interest in the ship Nevis Merchant, Timothy Clark, master; 1/8 interest in the pink Owners Adventure, John Soley, master; 1/8 interest in the pink Mary and Elizabeth, R. Foster, master; 1/4 interest in the ketch Dolphin, J. Reyner, master; 5/8 interest in the ketch Gabriel, Joseph Buckley, master; 1/6 interest in the sloop Mayflower, S. Codman, master and full interest in the ketch Providence, Peter Blaike, master^[1].

John's will was written on 31 May 1692 and probated on 6 February 1692/3. It was primarily devised to his sons & daughters^[1].

On 2d:3m(May):1651 when John was 27, he married Lydia GOFFE, daughter of Edward GOFFE & Joyce CUTTER, in Malden, Middlesex co., MA^[1,13,78,87,88,89,90,91,92,93] by "Mr. Nowell". Lydia was born circa 1628 in England; yet baptized in Cambridge, Middlesex co., MA^[94]. She and her family supposedly migrated to America in 1635. Lydia died in Malden, Middlesex co., MA on 11 December 1715; she was 87^[1,16].

They had the following children:

17	i.	John
18	ii.	Jonathon
19	iii.	Samuel
20	iv.	Mary
21	v.	Phineas
22	vi.	Deborah
23	vii.	Sarah
24	viii.	Hannah
25	ix.	Lydia
26	x.	Edward

Generation: G8 Grandparents

Person Numbers: 1860/1861

9. Jonathon SPRAGUE (*Ralph*², *Edward*¹) was born in 1625 in Fordington St. George, Upway, Dorsetshire, England and was baptized there on 27 November 1625^[11,78,85,86]. Jonathon died in Malden, Middlesex co., MA in 10m(December):1650; he was 25^[1,16,78]. He came over with his family in 1628 or 1629 at the age of 3 or 4.

10. Captain Richard SPRAGUE (*Ralph*², *Edward*¹) was born in 1627 or 1628 in Fordington St. George, Upway, Dorsetshire, England^[82]. If Richard was 1 year old when they sailed to America, he was either born in 1627 (the Abigail crossing) or 1628 (the Lyon's Whelp crossing)^[82]. Robert Anderson claims that Richard was born circa 1630, citing an 11 September 1671 deposition where he states that he was "aged forty years or thereabouts"^[78,95,96].

Sprague Register Report

On 25 February 1672/3 when Richard was 45, he first married Eunice CHESTER, in Charlestown, Suffolk co., MA^[97]. He second married Katherine RICHARDSON. As seen by his title, he served in the militia and distinguished himself enough to earn a senior commission.

11. Samuel SPRAGUE (Ralph², Edward¹) was born in 1632 and baptized in Boston, Suffolk co., MA on 3 June 1632^[1,98]. Note that this is a corrected date by Richard Anderson. Many previous sources listed the year as 1631, which is incorrect. On 23 August 1655 when Samuel was 23, he married Rebecca CRAWFORD, in Charlestown, Suffolk co., MA^[78].

12. Mary SPRAGUE (Ralph², Edward¹) was born in 1634 and baptized in Charlestown, Suffolk co., MA on 14 September 1634^[1,78,99]. She married Daniel EDMANDS/EDMUNDS.

13. Phineas SPRAGUE (Ralph², Edward¹) was born in 1637 and baptized in Charlestown, Suffolk co., MA on 31d:5m(July):1637^[1,78,100]. On 11 December 1661 when Phineas was 24, he first married Mary CARRINGTON^[101]. On 5 January 1669/70 when Phineas was 32, he second married Sarah HERSEY^[82].

Family of Edward SPRAGUE (4)

14. Elizabeth SPRAGUE (Edward²⁻¹) was born in 1627 in Fordington St. George, Upway, Dorsetshire, England and was baptized there on 1 May 1627^[84,85]. She died in Fordington St. George, Upway, Dorsetshire, England in 1631 and was buried there on 24 September 1631; she was 4^[83,84].

15. Edward SPRAGUE (Edward²⁻¹) was born in 1630 in Fordington St. George, Upway, Dorsetshire, England and baptized there on 1 August 1630^[84,85].

16. William SPRAGUE (Edward²⁻¹) was born in 1632 in Fordington St. George, Upway, Dorsetshire, England and baptized there on 28 July 1632^[84,85].

His death record tells that he was "killed with a limb of a tree of his one [own] falling".

Although he lived in Malden, Middlesex co., MA all his life, he also owned real estate in Charlestown, Suffolk co., MA. In 1695, he bought 8 acres there from W. Rand. In 1698/9, he purchased 100 acres from Abraham Hill. He made the same deal -- 100 acres, plus "rights" -- in 1699. That same year, he bought 6 acres of marsh land on the Mystic River "near P. Fowle's island of sedge" from T. White & Joseph Sweetser and sold 1.5 acres of land to S. Sweetser. Finally, he sold 6 acres of woods to John Tufts in 1699-1700^[104].
